

Da-Yeh University 2026 National SDGs Innovation, Creativity, and Entrepreneurship Competition Guidelines

I. The purpose of the competition

To cultivate talents with a sustainable vision and fully implement the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), the "2026 National SDGs Innovation and Creativity and Entrepreneurship Competition" (hereinafter referred to as "the competition") is organized. This competition encourages students to demonstrate creativity, apply their academic and professional knowledge in connection with issues of social concern, and make use of AI to strengthen practical implementation and design capabilities, thereby cultivating their ability to solve problems and bring their ideas to market.

II. Organizers

Da-Yeh University, Office of Institutional Development, Office of Research and Development and Office of Sustainable Development.

III. Eligibility and Team Composition

- A. All college and university students with valid student status nationwide are eligible to register. Each team must consist of 2 to 5 students. Cross-departmental, cross-college, and cross-university teams are encouraged. One member should be designated as the team leader and contact person for communication with the organizers.
- B. Each team must have a team name and a faculty advisor. Each advisor may guide up to two teams, and there is no limit on the number of teams a single advisor can mentor.
- C. Works that have previously won the top three places in national or inter-university competitions before the registration deadline are not eligible to participate in this competition. However, works that have only participated in internal school competitions or inter-university competitions without a finalized ranking by the registration deadline are exempt from this rule.

IV. Competition Format

Participating teams may choose their own themes, which must be linked to at least one of the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Based on these themes, teams are expected to brainstorm innovative application concepts and propose concrete and feasible creative project proposals to develop products or service processes that meet market demands and business opportunities

- A. Preliminary Round (Document Review):

- a. The preliminary round involves document-based evaluation, with the following scoring criteria:
 - ◆ Originality (50%)
 - ◆ Feasibility (30%)
 - ◆ Market demand and competitive analysis (20%)
 - b. Preliminary round submissions are accepted online. Teams must submit the required registration documents (Appendices 1 and 2) and a PowerPoint presentation file (maximum 30 slides, content reference in Appendix 3). File naming format: TeamName-ProjectTitle.pptx (e.g., OurTeam-InnovativeEcoCup.pptx).
 - c. The cover and content must not include the university name, department, or faculty advisor names.
- B. Final Round:
- a. Outstanding teams selected from the preliminary round will enter the national finals. Finalists must deliver an oral presentation on the competition day (10-minute presentation, followed by a 5-minute Q&A session where judges will ask all questions at once).
 - b. Final presentation file naming format: FinalRoundNumber-Category-TeamName-ProjectTitle.pptx.
 - c. Final scoring criteria:
 - ◆ Presentation Content (completeness, innovation, relevance to SDGs) - 50%
 - ◆ Business Operational Feasibility - 30%
 - ◆ Presentation Performance (presentation skills, delivery, teamwork, expression, timing, and response to judges) - 20%
 - d. Awards will be given based on total scores, selecting the top three winners and several honorable mentions selected. The results and award announcements will be made on the competition day. The organizer reserves the right to adjust the number of awardees based on the number of participating teams.

V. Competition Training Workshops

To help participating teams understand the competition content and improve the quality of their projects, the organizers will hold competition workshops to explain the SDGs topic ideas, invite industry experts to guide the key points of project writing and presentation skills, and provide other related content.

A. Implementation Plan: Two workshops are planned, one online and one in person. Related information will be published on the university homepage or the University Development Office website (Latest News: <https://oudqa.dyu.edu.tw/>).

B. Schedule:

- ◆ First Workshop: Expected to be held from June 18th to June 30th, 2026.
- ◆ Second Workshop: Expected to be held from October 27th to November 6th, 2026.

C. Target Participants:

- ◆ First Workshop: Open to all registered or interested students. Priority will be given to the top-ranked groups in the thematic competitions.
- ◆ Second Workshop: Primarily for finalists. Teams in these groups are encouraged to attend the training.

D. Registration Method: Please register through the designated online system. The application link will be available on the university homepage or the University Development Office website (<https://oudqa.dyu.edu.tw/>).

- B. Second Place: NT$15,000
- C. Third Place: NT$10,000
- D. Merit Award: NT$3,000

VIII. Additional Rules

- A. If no suitable works meet the standard, the awards may remain vacant at the judges' discretion.
- B. Entries must adhere to the competition theme and must not contain content that violates public decency; violators will be disqualified.
- C. Submitted works must be original creations by the participants, which have not been previously published or awarded in any public competitions, and must not infringe upon the copyrights or other rights of others. Participants should avoid entering the competition if there are any doubts or disputes regarding copyright.
- D. If plagiarism, infringement, repeated awards, or violations of public decency are reported and verified, the organizers reserve the right to disqualify the participants or winners and reclaim certificates, prize money, and related competition proceeds. No substitutions will be made for the rankings; this applies to those who have already received awards as well. Participants shall bear full legal responsibility for any copyright disputes or other legal liabilities.
- E. Participation in this competition implies agreement to all competition rules.

F. The organizers reserve the right to amend the competition rules as necessary.

G. Competition expenses are funded by the Da-Yeh University Higher Education Sprout Project.
