2018 Sports Administration Water Safety Carnival Event

Minister of Education Jiunn-rong Yeh attended the 2018 Water Safety Carnival Event press conference

The annual summer vacation is the peak period for students to engage in water related activities, a time of year when most student drowning incidents also occur. In order to remind students to take care when engaging in water related activities, the Sports Administration held the "Water Safety Carnival" event in the Shin Kong Mitsukoshi Xinyi Plaza at Xinyi District, Taipei on August 5th 2018.

The Water Safety Carnival included anti-drowning, water rescue and self-rescue events, in the hope that adults and children gain a deeper understanding of water safety through experience and play. A host of relevant parties were also invited to participate in the event, including the Ministry of Transportation and Communications Tourism Bureau, Taipei City Fire Department, Department of Education of Taipei City Government, Swimming Teachers Association of Taiwan and National Kaohsiung University of Science and Technology etc., to create a water safety protection network together, teaching children how to self-rescue and prevent drowning, allowing them to play safely in the water. The Carnival comprised three main areas: water safety display, water safety interaction and the central stage. The water safety display area allowed visitors to gain a better understanding of water safety through practical experience, with a professional lifeguard teaching self-rescue methods, and the 10 anti-drowning steps specially created by the internet comedy sensation "NSFW" to improve public knowledge of water safety through simple rhymes and fun activities. The water safety interaction area featured a series of challenges teaching water safety through play. The site also had 3D landscape art and profile picture frame, which the visitors could take a photograph with and upload to the social media to exchange for prizes and to have the chance to win a prize in a draw.
